ARE YOU IN?

Prime Creative Media is Australia's fastest growing B2B media and events organisation. With a strong commercial base built in trade media publications and effective trade events, 2019 and 2020 will be our most significant growth in the events division yet.

The company's events division encompasses major expos, conferences, award programs and client bespoke events in diverse industry sectors including transport, hospitality and manufacturing.

2020 will see Prime Creative Media host the second instalment of our end to end logistics expo MEGATRANS, supported by a new dedicated expo BULK2020 in April. With a footprint spanning the majority of the Melbourne Exhibition Centre, and engagement with the sector's leading businesses, this is a unique event.

THE OPPORTUNITY

Reporting directly to the General Manager of Events at Prime Creative Media, you will be in a prime position to grow your event sales experience and expertise. This is a challenging and rewarding role, where you will contribute directly to the success of some outstanding, world-class events.

Prime Creative Media is a values-driven, Australian-owned family business with a strong appetite for continuing growth. Our mission is to 'grow individuals, organisations and industries', and we do this through a relentless commitment to our core values of growth, accountability, humility and generosity.

We are looking for someone to hit the ground running as soon as possible, and we do provide a comprehensive induction, training, support and ongoing development process.

If you are a professional with a demonstrated experience in event sales (or a transferable sales background), hard work excites you, and you share a resonance with our values, then we'd love to speak with you.
